

From the Library: 25-25

Some of you may recall a song called “In the Year 25-25”. No? Have one of your grandkids Google it for you. After listening to it read the information that follows. In a few moving lyrics and fitting music I’m sure it will bring back memories or implant new ones. It should provoke conversations about where we have been and might be in the future.. Keep in mind this was written nearly 50 years ago. Yet some of what was thought to be far into the future is really now in the past. Next year will be 2020, in 6 years it will mark the passing the first quarter of the 21st Century! Will we make it to 2525? Will we want to? Good Luck and Happy New Year!

P.S. February is a great time to read a book or two or three, cuddled up with Fido. Remember Fido and other furry friends in or outside . They need a cozy place and a little extra food in the cold weather. While you are at it put some warm water in his or her bowl.

P.S.S. Consider donating animal foods to a shelter or pound. And books to the “Little Library”.

Black History Month

The month of February is a time to honor the achievements of African-Americans in U.S. history. Since its first observance at Kent State University in February 1970, Black History Month (also referred to as African-American History Month) has evolved into a country-wide celebration.

Did you know:

- Thomas L. Jennings was the first African-American to receive a patent for his discovery of a process called dry-scouring (later dry-cleaning) in 1821.
- Along with being a powerful anti-slavery organizer, James McCune Smith was the first African-American to achieve a Medical Degree in 1837.
- In 1988 Oprah Winfrey founded Harpo Productions, which made her the first woman in history to own and produce her own talk show. She was also the first African-American (man or woman) to own an entertainment production company.

President Gerald Ford, the first president to recognize Black History Month in 1976, urged us all to “seize the opportunity” to honor African-American accomplishments “in every area of endeavor throughout our history.”

Go Red For Women – February is American Heart Month, and the American Heart Association’s signature women’s program, Go Red for Women, is designed to increase women’s heart health awareness and help improve the lives of women around the world. Random Act of Kindness Day is February 17

Kindness is a generosity of spirit. It comes to life when we give of ourselves and our time to help others, without expecting anything in return. When you show kindness to someone, you bring out the best in yourself.

Pay attention to the impact your behavior has on others, and notice your own feelings in association to their reactions. Think about how you feel when somebody else shows you kindness. What you give may come back to you in even greater quantity.

It is so easy to find ways to be kind to others: say something supportive when you feel someone needs to hear it; offer help without being asked for it; smile encouragingly; swallow your criticisms; listen without judgement; let mistakes slide instead of assigning blame; make small sacrifices for the benefit of somebody in greater need.

Don’t forget to be kind to yourself as well. You may run out of steam and feel less able to show kindness to others if you don’t replenish your own mind, body and spirit on a regular basis.

Being kind to yourself means getting your needs met; being gentle with yourself instead of critical when you feel you’re not performing at your best; and forgiving yourself when the need arises instead of beating yourself up.

When you get into the habit of treating yourself with kindness, it becomes much easier to extend that consideration and behavior to others.

Chocolate and Heart Health: Fact or Fallacy?

Wouldn’t it be wonderful if chocolate and heart health went hand-in-hand? You might be surprised to find out that chocolate isn’t as bad as it was once thought. The fat content in chocolate, derived from cocoa butter contained in premium grade dark chocolate, is comprised of equal amounts of oleic acid (a heart-healthy monounsaturated fat also found in olive oil), stearic and palmitic acids. But, stearic and palmitic acids are forms of saturated fat – not so good. Saturated fats are linked to increases in LDL-cholesterol and risk of developing heart disease.

Whether chocolate and heart health do walk hand in hand is still an open topic. In moderation it may not do your heart any harm for a special occasion; however, be sure to watch those calories. But most of all, enjoy it because it tastes so good!

Celebrating National Inventor Day: February 11

What makes a successful inventor?

What separates successful inventors like Thomas Edison from everyone else?

History has shown that the most successful inventors possess the following characteristics:

- 1. They are persistent. Obstacles loom in front of us on a regular basis. But it's what you do when faced with these barriers that will determine your level of success.
- 2. Successful inventors are avid goal setters. They make sure their goals are specific, motivational, achievable yet challenging, relevant to their personal situation, and time-framed.
- 3. Great inventors ask quality questions. The most effective way to present their product is to uncover their customer's goals, objectives, concerns and hesitations.
- 4. Successful inventors listen. Great inventors ask questions and listen carefully to the responses, often taking notes and summarizing their understanding of the comments.
- 5. Successful inventors are passionate. The more passionate you are about your product/idea, the greater the chance you will succeed. The reason for this is simple—when you love what you do, you are going to put more effort into your product/idea.
- 6. Successful inventors take responsibility for their results. They do not blame internal problems, the economy, tough competitors, or anything else if they fail to meet their goals.

Happy Birthday

Chinese New Year, February 5th: Year of the Pig

The Pig may be the most generous and honorable sign of the Chinese Zodiac. People born in a Year of the Pig (1935, 1947, 1959, 1971, 1983, 1995, 2007, 2019) are thought to be nice to a fault and possess impeccable manners and taste. They can be perfectionists and may be perceived as snobs, but this is a misconception.

Pigs are simply possessed of a truly luxurious nature, one that delights in finery and nice things (in surroundings, food, lovemaking and otherwise). This Sign believes in the best qualities of mankind and certainly doesn't consider itself to be superior. Pigs also care a great deal about friends and family and work hard to keep everyone in their life happy. Helping others is a true pleasure for the Pig, who feels best when everyone else is smiling.

Pigs are highly intelligent creatures, forever studying, playing and probing in their quest for greater knowledge. This Sign could happily spend hours on end making friends, napping, taking a long bubble bath or dallying over an incredible spread of rich foods. Pigs tend to make wonderful life partners due to their hearts of gold and their love of family.
